First National Bank of Chester County names Lynn Mander Chief Investment Officer

Mander, a Wall Street veteran, has 31 years experience and holds CFA, CFP designations

WEST CHESTER _ First National Bank of Chester County has named financial services professional Lynn Mander as Chief Investment Officer of the bank's First National Wealth Management division.

"Lynn has worked with major Wall Street firms and is a respected professional among her peers," said John A. Featherman III, Chairman and Chief Executive Office of First National. "She has taken leadership roles with the prestigious international Chartered Financial Analyst Institute."

Mander, a senior vice president at First National, is a Certified Financial Analyst and a Certified Financial Planner. She has worked in the financial services industry for 31 years, including 15 years as an analyst and institutional salesperson with major Wall Street firms and 15 years as a portfolio manager.

"Lynn is a key addition to our First National Wealth Management team," said Clay T. Henry, bank Executive Vice President. "We are offering enhanced expert financial planning and management to our customers. She will be responsible for overseeing the investment process, being a portfolio manager and generating new business."

Mander is a past president of the Chartered Financial Analysts of Philadelphia. She is an active volunteer with CFA Institute; serving on the international Standards of Practice Council, grading CFA examinations for the past ten years and as a member of the Council of Examiners, which writes and prepares the CFA Examinations.

She is also on an advisory board with The American College which is reviewing the curriculum for the CFP program. She serves on the Investment and Finance Committees of Episcopal Community Services and is a founding board member of Aiding Romania's Children, providing home health care to children in Romania with HIV/AIDS.

Mander was the Director of Research for Bryn Mawr Trust. She also had responsibilities as a mutual fund manager and on Wall Street worked in institutional fixed income sales.

She lives in Wayne, has two daughters and is active at St. Peter's Church in Great Valley.

First National, a subsidiary of First Chester County Corporation, is the largest independent national bank headquartered in Chester County and provides quality financial services to individuals, businesses, governmental entities, nonprofit organizations, and community service groups.
